

SUN n FUN 2026 Forum - Its a Risky Business

The interactive program is designed for both the pilot and mechanic to use ADM and Risk Management Skills to better consider and identify the various factors involved with that next flight that may not be apparent at first glance. Using many real life examples, the session will review human factors, maintenance failures, performance issues, glass cockpit failures, and offer insights into methods of risk re-assignment/transfer to make for a safer flying experience.
