

FAASTeam presents:

Sharing Airspace with Civilian and Military Unmanned Aircraft - UAS / UAV / Drones

With the rise of small personal hobby and commercial Unmanned Aerial Systems (UAS), and the introduction of the US Army's Gray Eagle into the National Airspace System (NAS), the FAA Safety Team has partnered up with the United States Army to host an open meeting for the general public to ask questions. The Fairbanks FAA Safety Team will be hosting the meeting on April 26th, 2016 from 6:30 to 9:30pm and topics of conversation/briefings will be: The FAA UAS website, UAS Registration Requirements, the KnowB4Ufly app, FAR Part 107, 333 exemptions, and the US Army's Gray Eagle Operations to and from the Military Operations Areas (MOA's).

So if you currently are flying a small UAS for Hobby, or for Commercial purposes, or just generally interested and you have any questions about the do's and don'ts of UAS operations, then this is the meeting for you.

Directions: The Fairbanks International Airport Operations Center is located on the Southwest part of the airport directly south of the main terminal building. Heading south on Airport Industrial Road just after the Alaska Airlines Cargo facility you make a left hand turn onto Brumbaugh Blvd and the building will be 100 yards down on you left hand side. Enter the building through the front door/main entrance and the Operations Center Conference room is right as you enter the building.
