

Human Factors in Aviation plus Richard Loven Master Pilot Presentation

You may have made the same decisions that these pilots made before or during your flight. The only difference is that they had an accident. Are you a better pilot or is it something else. Connell Flying Service is hosting this event and cordially invite you to attend. The public is invited.

Directions: The meeting will be held in the main terminal building at the airport. Come early for great conversation and to meet with area pilots. Fly in parking right next to the meeting room.
