

Spend the evening with an AME to get your questions answered

This event will feature Dr. Schissel, an experienced AME based in the Des Moines area who will give a brief presentation on relevant medical topics for pilots, and then open the floor for questions. Join us for an evening of discussion about all things pertaining to FAA medical certification, and how to smoothly get through your next medical exam.

This is open to pilots of all levels and will be a great learning experience for everyone.

Proceed inside the FBO and upstairs to the conference room
