Super Safety Seminar & Trade Show

Saturday, January 25th 9:00am-1:00pm

Industry experts discuss important topics related to recent trends in aviation safety. Join fellow pilots and aviation enthusiasts, keep up to date with the latest information and even earn WINGS credit. Aviation businesses, flight schools and local organizations are on hand throughout the MACTS to show and discuss their products and services. Learn more about the latest products, find out about obtaining your next rating (or your first!), and discover events and activities to keep you active in the St. Louis aviation community.

Aviation Awards Banquet & Silent Auction

Saturday, January 25th 6:00pm-9:00pm

On the Saturday night of the MACTS, GSLFIA, hosts the annual Aviation Awards Banquet during which St. Louis' finest aviators, instructors and volunteers are honored by the community for their dedication to aviation, education and professionalism. The FAA also presents awards to deserving aviators, featuring the Wright Brothers Master Pilot Awards and other prestigious awards. The GSLFIA also presents an annual Silent Auction. Attendees can bid on goods and services from airplane rides, to fine wine, to aviation art and memorabilia.

Annual Learn To Fly Event

Sunday, January 26th, 11:00am-1:00pm

Each Year, the GSLFIA presents the Learn To Fly event geared toward educating the general public about Aviation. Local children and adults are invited to attend a live seminar with free flight lessons in flight simulators, get a logbook and talk with pilots, instructors and air traffic controllers about pursuing a career in aviation or just fulfill your lifetime dream of taking to the air. So come and join us on Sunday, January 26th to meet and greet the future aviators of the world...maybe even bring some with you to learn about your passion. See you there!
