2014 Midwest Aviation Conference & Trade Show (MACTS)

FREE EVENT: Industry experts discuss important topics related to recent trends in aviation safety. Join fellow pilots and aviation enthusiasts, keep up to date with the latest information and earn WINGS credit towards flight review. Aviation businesses, flight schools and local organizations are on hand throughout the MACTS to show and discuss their products and services. Learn more about the latest products, find out about obtaining your next rating (or your first!), and discover events and activities to keep you active in the St. Louis aviation community. This year's FREE Safety Seminar features a line-up of inspirational and informative speakers including Al Gorthy, Jeff Edwards, Fred Harms and special guest presenter, former NASA Space Shuttle Astronaut, Steve Nagel. Later that evening, area aviators will gather to honor their own at the annual Aviation Awards Banquet. We're very excited to celebrate the presentation of Mr. Fred Harms with the Wright Brothers Master Pilot Award. Details below.

Directions: To get to the Maryland Heights Centre, take I-270 to the Dorsett exit (17). Go west 1/4 mile and turn right on McKelvey, continuing straight onto Bennington Place. Turn right on Ameling and then left on McKelvey. The Maryland Heights Centre is located next door to the Aquaport.
