

FAASTeam presents:

NAFI - Integrating a Home Study Course

A home study course is not a flight instructor replacement, but a compliment and enhancement to the learning experience. But to be used to its maximum potential and ensure your students' success takes active CFI involvement and participation in the variety of learning tools available.

As more and more of your students turn to these distance learning resources, let's explore and embrace the quality content and system integrations available and learn how you can put these tools to use for better student engagement, retention and performance.

Sporty's Academy President and Chief Flight Instructor, Eric Radtke, shares the virtues and latest innovations in home study systems and how you can put these tools to use as a flight instructor.
