

FAASTeam presents:

Society of Aviation and Flight Educators (SAFE) - Teaching Beyond the Minimums

This program focuses on the critical need to teach well beyond the FAA minimum certification standards and stay motivated with lifetime learning. (Do we aim for a 70% when taking any test?) For educators, the Master Instructor Program is an important way to stay motivated and demonstrate your commitment to lifetime learning.

Safety is impossible in a vacuum. It requires high-level community standards and a "safety culture" to promote compliance and continuous learning.

The FAASTeam WINGS Pilot Proficiency Program - WINGS - provides exactly this kind of critical outreach and motivation for all pilots.

Through in-person and online education, WINGS sets a high standard and enables continuous lifetime learning for pilots.

Bring your questions and comments for this LIVE event and challenge yourself to be a better pilot and educator with WINGS.
