

FAASTeam presents:

Inspiring Life Long Learning and Proficiency with Jason Blair
CFI/DPE

Wouldn't it be wonderful if pilots committed themselves to continuous learning and routine proficiency training through their entire flying career? With such a long-term commitment, we would no doubt find much safer pilots and greatly reduced accident rates in General Aviation. Jason Blair, experienced CFI and DPE, will share some best practices for enrolling student pilots in the WINGS program, how best to use the WINGS program offerings to enhance & further student training, and sharing methods of validating credits for students & certificated pilots to earn phases of WINGS. He will also discuss how using these offerings early in a student pilot's training can instill a safety mindset and develop an awareness of tools to enhance a pilot's knowledge, skill, risk management, and overall proficiency.
