Takeoffs, approaches, and landing have generated many hours of hangar flying, opinions, and stories of how to conduct each of these operations. Learn some of the many variables and methodologies for making each of these operations as safe and predictable as possible. An overview of the new WINGS program will also be presented. If not already registered on FAASafety.gov, please do so in order to receive future notification of aviation safety events via email.

Directions: Fountain Plaza Meeting Room, Cox Medical Center North.
