

An Unclear But Present Danger

Al Gorthy, FAA Assistant Manager Regional Runway Safety, will use an actual situation involving multiple aircraft to facilitate this interactive session on how the six eyes, six ears, three mouths, and three brains can recognize critical situations as they develop and prevent runway incursions and airborne conflicts. Major themes are the development and preservation of situational awareness and aeronautical decision making.

Directions: Multi Media Training Center

A message from the National FAASTeam Manager

Over 10,150 AMTs earned an AMT Award last year. Will you, this year?

Sign up for the FAA's safety services at www.FAASafety.gov!

The FAA Safety Team (FAASTeam) is committed to providing equal access to this meeting/event for all participants. If you need alternative formats or services because of a disability, please communicate your request as soon as possible with the person in the "Contact Information" area of the meeting/event notice. Note that two weeks is usually required to arrange services.

Event Details

Sat, Oct 13, 2012 - 8:00 am
Olathe KS Fire Depart Training Center

1200 S Hamilton Circle
Olathe, KS 66061

Contact: LtCol John Shelton
(816)932-7228
john.shelton@opco.com

Select #: CE0546825

Lead Representative JOHN SHELTON