

Understanding Weather

The focus of this forum is weather. The purpose is not to teach weather to the attendees but instead to meet, discuss, exchange ideas on how to teach weather, and listen to what pilot examiners are looking for when they test weather tasks.

Directions: The FAA building is located on the west side of the street between Harry St. and Crossfield Rd., north of the Flight Safety Cessna Citation Training Center. Please enter through the east door.

A message from the National FAASTeam Manager

Over 136,600 pilots earned WINGS credits last year. Will you, this year?
