

The Big Trip Managing Risk When Using Little Airplanes For Transportation

The presentation will be a guided discussion that is pertinent for both VFR and IFR pilots. The program is eligible for FAA Pilot Proficiency Program (WINGS) credit.

Armand Vilches is a Flight Instructor and the 2015 Nashville District FAASTeam Honoree. His extensive background in risk management and insurance allows him to bring a unique perspective to aviation and flight instruction. His aim is to help pilots learn to fly safely. His love of all things aviation keeps bringing him back to Oshkosh each summer to see old friends, and to make new ones.
