

AOPA Weather Challenge

An interactive review of weather and exactly what all that data really means. We will look at the best resources, critical tie-ins with risk management and decision making, weather related accidents that did not have to happen and the promise (and pitfalls) of cockpit weather. This is an AOPA Air Safety Institute seminar and is open to anyone who may be interested. Registration and WINGS credit will be processed by AOPA. If you received a card in the mail from AOPA, bring it along. It will be your sign in at the event, used for the door prize drawings and then for WINGS credit.

Directions: Main Conference rooms
