

Kingston Bimonthly Safety Meeting

When was the last time you recovered from an unusual attitude? What is an unusual attitude? What are best practices for recovering from an unusual attitude? Are you employing efficient instrument and visual scan techniques? If you answered, "I don't know" to any of the aforementioned, come join us for an interactive safety seminar where we shall discuss best practices for recovery from unusual attitudes and techniques to prevent your aircraft being placed in a position you did not intend. In this meeting we will discuss the dangers of this flight condition and provide you with the tools, skills and knowledge to operate safely and avoid the accident.
