

Flying the New York SFRA - Doug Stewart

During this two hour live event, our speaker, Doug Stewart, will review the procedures for flying the New York Corridor. For many pilots, a bucket list flight is to fly the New York VFR Corridor. There is no doubt that the flight is one of the more memorable flights a pilot can make. But, there are a variety of risks to consider. In this presentation Doug will discuss the things you need to know to make this flight successful.

From the South: Proceed past the Albany Airport entrance following Albany Shaker Road, then turn right onto Airport Park Blvd, then turn right again onto Old Albany Shaker, after 600 feet turn left to follow Albany Airport County Road, then right into the parking lot with signage for The hanger at 743, Home of the Warbird Factory.
