

Human Performance - Capabilities and Limitations

This two hour event, coordinated by the Albany FAASTeam and presented by FAASTeam Representative, Ningyun Cai. It will contain information of interest to all pilots.

During this months Seminar, we will present an interesting discussion about human performance. This will be a human factors study on what effects our performance. We will go over the various things that can decrease our performance as pilots, including fatigue, stress, high work load and even our health and capabilities.

This two hour event will be held at Av Flight, located at the southeast side of the airport below the beacon and tower. This seminar will be held in the 1st floor Conference Room at Av Flight at the Plattsburgh Airport. Street address: 1 Alabama Street, Plattsburgh, NY. No landing and facility fees for aircraft <12,500lb.
