

Things I Never Learned in Flight School

Ever wonder what your responsibilities are, as the owner/operator with respect to your aircraft's "Airworthiness". Come join us for a lively discussion on questions such as: Do you know enough about the aircraft you operate, to determine that it is airworthy? Do you know the many regulatory requirements that clearly lie with you as the owner/operator? We will answer these questions and more. Come join us for this interesting seminar!

Directions: Please see map link for directions, seminar will be held in the Airport Conference Room.
