

IMC Club Meeting

This scenario introduces a number of risk factors that are common in GA flying. You have a new glass panel airplane that will surely enhance your IFR flying, but you are not Instrument current or proficient using the new equipment. You are planning an important business trip in the new airplane but are concerned you may have to file IFR. A local CFII whom you've never flown with offers to make the trip with you. Add in some pressure to get there with challenging weather conditions and you have the recipe for an interesting scenario. Please join us for this informative meeting.
