

IFR Meeting (Changed to Wednesdays this Semester)

At the end of a long flight, you just want to land, but a trainee controller and instrument practice traffic have created the perfect storm—and you've just been cleared directly into it. Can you trust a controller who's already made an operational error, or will you violate an FAR because you believe it will avoid "aluminum rain"?

Directions: The meeting will be held in the Republic Airport Main Terminal Building, 2nd Floor Conference Room
