

NAFI 2025 - Conducting Instrument Approaches - At the PPC Education Center

Event Details

This presentation will share techniques adopted from over 25 years of flight instructing, based on processes advocated at a regional airline, aircraft manufacturer, and various GA safety groups. These methods include how to effectively transition from the enroute to the terminal environment. Defining what are the key tasks to be performed outside the final approach fix to ensure you are stabilized and ready for a missed approach. A technique will be shared for preparing you mentally for the descent to DA/MDA and possible missed approach. Preferred callouts along the approach, including the decision to either land or go missed will be covered. Finally, exploring risks of autopilot mode changes in the AFCS scoreboard.
