

The FAA Safety Team presents:

Winter Cross Country Flying

The Fall and Winter flying seasons can be a beautiful time of the year, but present their own unique challenges for pilots planning a cross country flight. This program will delve into the many considerations and preparations necessary for a pilot to make a safe winter flight. Be prepared, be familiar, don't get caught off guard while flying cross country in the Eastern Region of the country during the fall and winter months ahead. Please click on the link below for more details and to register for this event on-line!

Directions: Please see map link for directions, seminar will be held in the Ronson Aviation East Hangar.
