

A Change In The Weather? How do I weather trend?

The summer flying season can be a beautiful time of the year, but can present its own unique challenges for pilots planning a cross country flight. This program will delve into the many considerations and preparations necessary for a pilot to make a safe flight. Be familiar, don't get caught off guard while flying cross country in the Eastern Region of the country during the summer months ahead. Please click on the link below for more details and to register for this event TODAY!

Directions: Please preregister; seating is limited. The seminar will be held at the American Helicopter Museum.
