FAASTeam & Richmond FSDO presents:

IMC Richmond - Mastering the Art of Instrument Flying

The IMC Club provides organized "hangar flying" focused on building proficiency and safety in instrument flying. We have very engaging discussions of real-world instrument scenarios, with pilots also sharing their knowledge and experiences in order to promote safety, education, and proficiency. You do not have to be instrument rated to attend.

Every meeting consists of scenario presentations and group discussions about instrument procedures, proficiency, unusual or interesting charts, changed rules and procedures, and member experiences.

The scenarios we will discuss at this meeting are focused on instrument procedures, decision making, proficiency, weather, and pre-flight planning.

Bring your EFB, your experience, and your questions, and be ready to participate.
