

The FAA Safety Team presents:

When Seconds Count!

So you're sitting on the bench watching the airplanes take off and land when the unexpected happens. Or, you are the local fire or police and receive a call. An aircraft has an accident. Do you know who to notify? Do you know what to do? Most importantly, do you know how to protect yourself and others who are attempting to help and assist? Join us for this informative discussion and participate in accident hazard awareness!

Directions: Main Building. First left to Auditorium

A message from the National FAASTeam Manager

Over 10,150 AMTs earned an AMT Award last year. Will you, this year?
