

The FAA Safety Team presents:

Is Your Head in the Clouds?

Come to this interesting and important seminar where we will begin with a review of departure, en-route and approach charts. A special emphasis will be placed on the proper, appropriate, and legal use of Global Positioning System (GPS) navigation systems. We will also discuss and review recent changes in terminal procedures and the requirements in AC 90-100 for GPS/IFR flight. Please click on the link below for more details and to register for this event!

Directions: Please see map link for directions, seminar is in the Manager's Conference room.
