

Fly-In Pancake Breakfast and WINGS Seminars

Fly or drive to the Smith Reynolds Airport and enjoy a delicious pancake breakfast, meet your fellow airmen, and attend TWO Wings Seminars. Learn what beneficial preflight information can be derived from a visit to the NOAA aviation web site, and what you are missing by not contacting the Lockheed Martin FSS for a weather brief. Participate in a fun filled skit in which volunteers will participate in a cross country flight scenario over the Appalachians, at night, during which things go very wrong and some bad decisions are made (based on true events). You are bound to learn some life saving information about aircraft systems, risk management, and human behavior. Event will count for Advanced WINGS. This is a new program for Fiscal 2017.

Directions: Seminar will be held in the Smith Reynolds Terminal Building
