

Aircraft Icing - What to Watch Out For

Join us for an engaging presentation on the critical topic of Icing, hosted by Flightgest Academy. This presentation will cover the various forms of aircraft icing, the conditions under which icing can occur, and its potentially hazardous impact on aircraft performance and control. Attendees will gain insights into recognizing and avoiding icing conditions, the limitations of de-icing and anti-icing systems, and best practices for in-flight decision-making when encountering icing threats. Whether you're a seasoned pilot or just starting out, this seminar will equip you with essential knowledge to enhance your safety and preparedness in cold-weather operations.

Upon entering Atlantic Aviation's main general aviation terminal, take a right. The Atlantic Aviation conference room is located immediately to your right on the lower level.
