

EAA IMC Club Meeting - Mastering the Art of Instrument Navigation

The EAA IMC Club provides a "hangar flying" experience organized around instrument flight, in order to promote safety, education, and proficiency.

Things don't always go exactly as planned. For this meeting we have two scenarios focusing on making tactical decisions, one on approach and one on departure. What will you do to stay safe and legal? When is it time to call it off?

Bring your EFB, your experience, and your questions, and be ready to participate.

All are welcome. You do not need to be an EAA member or rated instrument pilot to attend.

By plane: park at the main ramp. Walk on the taxiway to the right of Midfield Cafe, between the buildings. The Airport Authority building is the third on the right, just before the Nashua Jet Aviation building.

By car: parking lot is on the right side of Perimeter Road, across the street from CrossFit Nashua, near the gate. The Airport Authority building is on the right, inside the fence.
