

EAA IMC Club Meeting - Simulator Scenarios

The EAA IMC Club provides a "hangar flying" experience organized around instrument flight, in order to promote safety, education, and proficiency.

For May, we will be talking about the use of simulators for instrument proficiency.

- How do you find good scenarios?
- Do you have tools that help with the process?
- How does it fit into your overall training strategy?

Bring your EFB, your experience, and your questions, and be ready to participate.

All are welcome. You do not need to be an EAA member or rated instrument pilot to attend.

If you are flying in, park at the main ramp. Walk on the taxiway to the right of Midfield Cafe, between the buildings. The Airport Authority building is the third on the right, just before the Nashua Jet Aviation building.

If arriving by car, the free parking lot is on the right side of Perimeter Road, across the street from CrossFit Nashua, near the gate. The Airport Authority building is on the right, inside the fence.

Go in the door on the south side of the building. Take the first left in the hallway, and then an immediate left into the stairwell. The meeting is in the room at the top of the stairs.

Meeting space is provided by Nashua Airport Authority.
