

EAA IMC Club Meeting - Departure Procedures

The EAA IMC Club provides a "hangar flying" experience organized around instrument flight, in order to promote safety, education, and proficiency.

For this meeting, we'll discuss departure procedures in detail along with two scenarios to evaluate. How do you fit them into your planning? How do you brief them and what are "gotchas" are you looking for? Do they figure into your practice and currency?

Bring your EFB, your experience, and your questions, and be ready to participate.

All are welcome. You do not need to be an EAA member or rated instrument pilot to attend.

If arriving by plane, park at the main ramp. Walk on the taxiway to the right of Midfield Cafe, between the buildings. The Airport Authority building is the third on the right, just before the Nashua Jet Aviation building.

If arriving by car, there is plenty of free parking in the parking lot on the right side of Perimeter Road, across the street from CrossFit Nashua, near the gate. The Airport Authority building is on the right, inside the fence.

Go in the door on the south side of the building. Take the first left in the hallway, and then an immediate left into the stairwell. The meeting is in the room at the top of the stairs.

Meeting space is provided by Nashua Airport Authority.
