

The FAA Safety Team presents:

Winter Aviation Weather From the Experts!

Event Details

Wed, Nov 14, 2012 - 6:00 pm

Business Aircraft Center

81 Kenosia Ave

Danbury, CT 06810

Contact: JAMES PHILIP ADAMS

(860) 654-1039

james.adams@faa.gov

Select #: EA6346876

FPM JAMES PHILIP ADAMS

FAA Safety Team Program Manager Jim Adams will reveal recent accident trends in the area and offer weather tips for attendees. Featured speaker Hugh Johnson, an Aviation Meteorologist from the National Weather Service (NWS-NOAA) will present an in depth program focusing on aviation meteorology and winter weather flying. Hugh will share the latest information about forecasting, meteorology technology, the ADDS website and where the icing and turbulence can be found. He'll discuss what XM weather can do for you as well as its limitations. Winter in New England can adversely affect flight operations, so attend this informative briefing and refresh your winter flying skills and enjoy the season. A buffet dinner will be served at 6PM, generously provided by the Business Aircraft Center!

Directions: I-84 to Exit 3 and the Mall/Park Ave Exit, turn left off the ramp onto Backus Avenue. Follow Backus Avenue, turn left at the Mobile Station onto Kenosia Avenue. BAC is at the end of the street. Enter the lobby through the door with the burgundy awning.

A message from the National FAASafety Team Manager

Over 10,150 AMTs earned an AMT Award last year. Will you, this year?

Sign up for the FAA's safety services at www.FAASafety.gov!

The FAA Safety Team (FAASTeam) is committed to providing equal access to this meeting/event for all participants. If you need alternative formats or services because of a disability, please communicate your request as soon as possible with the person in the "Contact Information" area of the meeting/event notice. Note that two weeks is usually required to arrange services.