

FAASTeam & EA63 FSDO presents:

Avoid the STRIKE! Change: This is not a fly in seminar

Dozens of bird strikes occur everyday across the National Airspace System (NAS), putting pilots and their passengers at risk! Featured speaker Gary Cooke, (former USAF, Flying Safety Officer for the 439 Airlift Wing, Chairman of NBAA's Bird Strike Working Group and FAASTeam Representative) will discuss bird / wildlife hazards and how you can mitigate the risk. This informative briefing will focus on how this threat is actually increasing and provide risk mitigation strategies and techniques for all aviators in dealing with the bird / wildlife strike risks. If inclement weather is forecast for the time of the seminar, please call 860-654-1039 for a status message. For Campus information, call Gregory Bongiorno at 508-525-2309.

Directions: Maxwell Library is located on the Bridgewater State University Campus, identified as number 12 on the campus map. For map and driving directions, see attached PDF with this announcement.
