

Flying To Cuba

With Cuba recently in the news, come learn what's involved with flying from here to there. Learn what is involved to prepare, navigate and communicate across the 95 nautical miles from the USA to Cuba. And once that is done, see where you can go and how to get there. We'll take a look at preparation, flight planning, survival gear, and more. Linda Cioffi is the first woman to fly into Cuba in her Cessna 182 and ran into equipment failure shortly after take off. Learn how to handle a situation like this safely.

Directions: Traveling North on route 302, The Red Jacket Mountain View Resort is .9 miles from the city center, just after the Duprey Road on the right.
