

Mid Air Collisions and Northeast Airspace Procedures

Several representatives from the United States Air Force 157 Aerial Refueling Wing Safety Office and the 260th Air Traffic Control Squadron from Pease will be at Southern Maine Aviation to discuss Mid Air collision risks and the procedures utilized by the Air Force to help reduce the risks in the busy northeastern airspace of the US. Come learn what our Air Force neighbors do nearby and how we can contribute to local area safety!

Directions: This event will be held in the show hanger of Southern Maine Aviation in the main terminal building.
