Starting July 23, 2012 there will be forum seminars on aviation related subjects presented in the air conditioned FAA Aviation Safety Center during the entire EAA AirVenture Oshkosh 2012 event.

These events will also be streamed through www.faasafety.gov and, for the first time this year, you will have the option of attending most safety center presentations via webinar. Webinar attendance will be valid for Wings and/or AMT credit. To find the webinar access information for each topic, go to the individual event posting on faasafety.gov. There will also be daily seminars conducted at the Seaplane Base. See attached seminar documents for listing of events.

Directions: FAA Safety Center Forums, EAA AirVenture 2012. Next door to the air traffic control tower.

A message from the National FAASafety Team Manager

Over 10,150 AMTs earned an AMT Award last year. Will you, this year?
