

DuPage FSDO, FAASTeam presents:

IMC Club Monthly Meeting at PWK - Dont get upset! (recover)

Dave Klopfleisch will lead a discussion on loss-of-control so we can keep the blue side up, even when we can't see the blue. We will look loss-of-control in various phases of flight: Instrument takeoff, Climb out, En route, Initial and final approach.

Speaker bio:

Dave started flying in 1966 at Roselle Airport, now called Schaumburg Airport in Schaumburg, IL. He served in the Navy from 1968-1974, with his last duty station at Miramar, CA. In the Navy, Dave flew the TA-4, single-engine attack jet. Afterward, Dave worked for various corporate flight departments and served as the Safety Officer at the NAS Glenview Flying Club from 1993-1996.

Flight Qualifications include: CFI and MEI, ATP, Part 121 Flight Dispatcher, current Safety Officer at Chicago Executive Flight School

IMC Club:

The purpose of the IMC Club is to promote instrument flying, proficiency, and safety. The intent is to create a community of pilots willing to share their perspective, provide recognition, foster communications, promote safety, and build proficiency in instrument flying. An IFR rating is not needed to participate in this excellent forum where we think through the various options from the comfort of your chair, firmly on the ground...
