

Sky High Success - Mastering FAA Special Issuance with Michael Hunter

Join nationally recognized airshow performer Michael Hunter as he shares his inspiring journey to successfully obtaining an FAA medical certificate as an insulin-dependent diabetic. In this insightful presentation, Michael will discuss the strategies he employed to secure his certification safely and effectively. He will also provide guidance for individuals facing various challenges on how to navigate the FAA medical certification process. With over 20 years of experience, Michael offers invaluable knowledge and tips that every pilot should know. Plus, enjoy engaging discussions on aerobatic flying and gain insights from Michael's work with Flight for Diabetes, as well as from his conversations with Federal Air Surgeon Dr. Susan Northrup. Don't miss this opportunity to learn from a seasoned expert in the field.

Please join us early for refreshments and a chance to socialize.
