Yes, you can really get to Alaska in a light aircraft from Wisconsin. Ray Fey from Madison has made the trip several times and would like to share his experience on how to safely make the trip in a single engine aircraft. The WI Aeronautics Division will introduce their products to assist pilots in flying safely within the state.

Directions: The Monroe Arts Center is located on 11th Street. From State Highway 69 (7th Avenue), turn East on 11th Street to intersection of 13th Avenue.
