

Wisconsin FAASTeam presents:

Legislative Update for General Aviation Pilots and Chili Lunch

Come prepared to expand your knowledge and feed your body. This event includes two separate WINGS seminars. You may choose to register for and attend one or both sessions.

'Legislative Update for General Aviation Pilots' is the afternoon session and will be presented beginning at 12:45 pm. The seminar will be preceded by a tasty chili and cornbread lunch from 11:30 – 12:45. Chili is $5 per bowl bowl and includes all the fixings.

EAA government advocacy specialist Mack Dickson will give a presentation on the organization's latest advocacy efforts and how they impact you as a general aviation stakeholder. Mack will provide timely updates on subjects such as third class medical reform, the status of ADS-B, drone regulation, and other current topics of interest. His presentation will also give audience members a heads-up on upcoming issues that affect general aviation pilots, such as the FAA Reauthorization bill and the rapidly changing ATC privatization proposal.

Mack's presentation includes a question and answer session.

Prior to lunch, Rich Mamrosh, a NWS aviation weather forecaster, will make a presentation on Skew-T diagrams. These diagrams are becoming well recognized as an excellent
