

FAASTeam presents:

Audio Panel and Radio Safety

Many radio issues are a result of pilot error due to unfamiliarity with the audio panel and other radio equipment. In this presentation we will cover some common causes of radio and communication failure and provide solutions.

Understanding how your equipment works and what is available as a back up will make your life as a pilot much easier. At the conclusion of the presentation you will understand what often causes radio communication failures, learn ways to restore communication, and know what to do if you encounter a radio failure.
