

Flying with your Family - Fun For All

The Strathys will share with us what they have learned over the years flying with their family. What if my spouse is afraid of little airplanes? How do I make the flight comfortable and fun for my kids? And, what about the dog? Gregg and Jan are both pilots and have flown with their family to many locations in several different aircraft. Jan was a non-pilot when she married her pilot husband Gregg, and learned to become comfortable with flying. Bring your significant other, especially those with reservations about flying!

Directions: This seminar will be located in the Modern Avionics Hanger located behind shop.
