

MN FAAS Team presents:

Flight Following - An Exercise in Aeronautical Decision Making

Al Thilmany, who is the FAA's Safety Team Program Manager for our area will brief us on the WINGS program and answer all your questions about the program. Many pilots ask the question of why should I sign up for WINGS credits and how can I spend them once I have them. Or, they have earned lots of credits, but they are never the right kind of credit to make use of. Or, they have signed up before but then started to get lots of junk-type email from the FAA. A lot of pilots have a lot of questions and Al can answer those questions. Let's make good use of him. We hope to have about 15-20 pilots discussing the FAA WINGS Program for about an hour.

Directions: Turn north at the most eastern traffic light off highway 14 in Byron, MN. Continue north on 10th Ave until the stop sign. Turn east on 7th St NE / Co 134. Turn south at the first opportunity onto Tompkins Dr NE. It is a 1-story business building on the west side of the road. Entrance is about in the center of the offices on the east side of the building.
