

KDLH Tower And Approach Tour For Instrument Rated And Instrument Student Pilots

Event Details

This event is for Instrument rated or Instrument student pilots. If you are focused on pattern / VFR questions please join us at the 6:30pm event on the same day.

Ever wonder who is up there telling you to "continue" on the ILS, come put a face with the name! Learn some better skills how to do practice approaches, work with Approach/Departure, request the published missed, see if there is a way to request an approach into the departing runway, what does "hold for release" mean, how to (not) annoy our controller friends and so much more!

A supervisor will give us a brief overview and we will have a Q&A session. We can also talk to the controllers as their workload permits.

Most of all we'll all remember / find out that controllers are just normal people and how we can all work together to keep flying fun and safe.

Stairs are required for the tower portion of the event, the tower is not ADA accessible
