

New Tablet New Technology New Software and Apps Now How do I use it

We'll discuss tablet technology and whats needed to really make it work for you.

Your local CFI may be your best source for updating and training with technology in the cockpit. However honest the effort of a CFI, if you here things like "I've looked at it" or "I think we can figure that out" don't put your faith in the training or the value of the instruction you'll recive. Use only trained and knowledgable CFIs to conduct that much needed tech training.
