Join us for the 2026 Bowling Green Aviation Safety Down Day—an in-person event focused on practical, real-world aviation safety. This event brings together pilots, instructors, students, maintenance professionals, and safety leaders for a day of discussion centered on operational risk management, human factors, and data-driven safety.

Sessions will highlight lessons learned from real events, FOQA insights, and strategies to strengthen decision-making in training and flight operations. Attendees can expect interactive discussions, relevant case studies, and opportunities to engage with peers across the aviation community.
