

South Dakota 2015 Annual Aviation Hall of Fame Event

An understanding of how your body and mind work when you fly is just as important as knowing how the systems and equipment work in your airplane. Education is your best asset when it comes to maintaining your health and ability to pass the FAA medical standards required by certification under FAR Part 67. Come join us as we learn the latest information from a Designated FAA Medical Examiner.

Directions: Spearfish Airport
