

CFI Open Forum

Just what role does the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) have in being a valuable resource to airmen?

The responsibilities of a Certified Flight Instructor (CFI) go well beyond teaching a student, it also requires the ability to use the FAA as a valuable resource. Learn more about the WINGS Proficiency Award Program and the benefits associated with it.

Come join us as we take a better look at what an Aviation Safety Inspector (ASI) does, and how to develop a better understanding between certificate holders and the FAA.

Directions: This event will take place at the SDSU Airport Flight School Building.
