Denver FSDO FAASTeam presents:

The Conditions and Hazards of Icing

This is a flight instructor (CFI) study group that meets every Monday at Rocky Mountain Flight School at BJC. This is an opportunity for pilots of all levels to practice their presentation skills and lesson plans. Pick a Task from any Airman Certifiction Standard (ACS) and present their lesson plan followed by a group discussion. This week we will be covering icing.

Study groups run from 1700 MST to about 2000 MST

Rocky Mountain Flight School at Rocky Mountain Metropolitan Airport (KBJC). Hosted in the simulator room. When you enter the front loby follow the signs to the simulator room.
