

Airmen Certification Standards

FAA Designated Pilot Examiner Jay Cronk will be here to talk about Practical Tests and the new Airmen Certification Standards (ACS). Jay has been using the ACS since they became effective on June 15, 2016 for private and instrument rating practical tests and will share some tips to help you prepare for your FAA Practical Tests, Flight Reviews, and Instrument Proficiency Checks. There will be plenty of time for discussion so bring your “questions for the examiner”.
